MEMORANDA.

HAINESPORT is a point on the South Rancocas Creek, at the head of steamboat navigation, two miles west and in sight of Mount Holly, and fifteen miles from Philadelphia. It is on the line of the Camden and Mount Holly Turnpike, and also on the Camden and Burlington County Railroad—recently opened—and now running two passenger trains daily, each way. Time, by railroad, forty minutes, from the upper ferry, foot of Market street, Philadelphia. More frequent trains will be run after a time, similar to the Germantown Railroad.

Philadelphia greatly needs a first-class FAMILY HOTEL within convenient reach of the city, for the accommodation of business men and their families, during the summer months, and, in many cases, all the year round. It is now proposed to supply that want.

The point selected is high ground, in a grove of spruce pines, overlooking the Rancocas Creek, and a highly cultivated and beautiful region of country, with pure and good water, fishing and sailing on the Rancocas, and turnpikes and other roads furnishing delightful drives in every direction. The steamer Barclay plies daily, each way, between this point and Philadelphia.

Gentlemen who prefer to drive in and out will have a good, smooth turnpike, on which to try the mettle of blooded horses, with the sun on their back in the morning, and the same on their return in the evening. Good stabling will be provided, on a liberal scale.

The Hotel will be erected upon a scale and conducted in a style that will insure the comfort of families that want and know how to judge and appreciate good living, good quarters, and social respectability. It is intended to be finished and opened to the public early in the month of May next (1868). The design is to both pay the stockholders and serve the public.

Abundant opportunities for attendance on public worship on the Sabbath, will be furnished by the five or six churches, of different denominations, in Mount Holly, only two miles distant.
